10 BLOCKS OF LIGHT

360 ELECTRIC LIGHTS ILLUMINATE THAT AREA.

GREAT GIFT TO THE CITY

Commercial Club Raised Money Among Business Men and Property Owners and Presented to City.

The white way extends ten blocks in the business section of the city, or from 100 feet south of First street to Sixth on Main street, from Robey's garage east on Fourth to Market street, then on Market south to Third from Fourth, then from Market west to Buchanan on Third.

There are seventy-two poles, each pole containing at the top a cluster of five lights. The poles stand about fourteen feet high. The top light of the cluster is 80-candle power. The four lower lights are 32-candle power. Over each light there is a white globe, fourteen inches on top and twelve inches below. The globes are the very latest and are called Alba globes. The poles are painted the color of crylight green. There are eight poles to the block, four on each side on the square.

The cost of the white way was $4,500. That sum of money was raised by the property owners in the business section and by the merchants. That amount will not cover all of the expense, as there will be about $200 more, but the Maryville Electric company will contribute that sum.

The white way will be turned over to the city, they to pay for the electric current and also for repairs and the upkeep of the system. The cost to the city for the juice for the white way is $30 per pole per year, or $2,160.

The contract of the city with the light company for the white way electric current starts today. The contract is for five years. The white way will be turned on from early dusk to 11 o'clock p. m. every night in the year, moonlight or no moonlight. From 11 o'clock to the next morning, the top light will remain on.

The white way will be turned on this evening at 8:20 o'clock by Manager C. C. Hellmers of the light company.

In addition to Maryville's white way the street lights in the residence portion of the city are also being changed. Instead of the old arc lights there are 80-candle power mazda lights. There are 170 of these, and the cost to the city is $15 a light a year. The light is being distributed over a greater area of the city than before, and Maryville has now the record of being the best lighted city in the state. The electric company would like to have the people report to them if any of the street lights are out, as it is hard for them to look after 170 lights. The mazda lights are more dependable than the arc lights.

Maryville is paying about the same amount for lighting purposes as was paid last year under the old contract. And she is getting nearly twice as much light.

The credit for the white way system belongs to the Commercial club. They commenced the work last December. The city council was in favor of the plan and practically no trouble was had at all with the council. And the money was not hard to raise.

The white way is a step of advancement for Maryville. Nothing adds more to the appearance of a town than a lighting system of this kind.

All of the globes are not here yet, but that will not interfere with the opening tonight. Many of the globes were borrowed from St. Joseph, Kansas City and Chillicothe. But the globes will be here within the next few weeks.

BIG FIRE ON ECKLES FARM.

Barn, Granary and Henhouse Destroyed Tuesday—Horses and Mules Also Burned.

Fire which is supposed to have been started by children playing with matches destroyed a barn, granary and henhouse on the James H. Eckles farm, five and a half miles southwest of the city, about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The farm is occupied by J. W. Knepper.

The barn contained three head of horses and two mules, about ten tons of hay, a carriage, all of which were burned. The horses or mules could not be saved. The granary contained 150 bushels of corn and 100 bushels of oats, which were also destroyed. A straw stack about 206 yards from the fire was destroyed, and it took hard work to save the residence on the farm and the implement barn and other sheds.

The loss to Mr. Eckles will be about $1,500, which is partially covered by insurance. The loss to Mr. Knepper is $800.

GETTYSBURG LIST OUT.

Three Nodaway County Veterans Entitled to Free Trip to Gettysburg.

Three Nodaway county veterans are entitled to transportation free to the anniversary celebration of the Gettysburg battle on July 1, 2, and 3, at Gettysburg, Pa., according to Adjutant General J. B. O'Meara of Jefferson City, who has just completed the tabulation of the list of the veterans who fought in both armies at the battle of Gettysburg, July 1, 2, and 3, 1963.

These are Abraham Walk and Richard Vardie of Maryville and Charles H. Eaton of Barnard.

The legislature appropriated $15,000 to pay the railway fare to Gettysburg and return for the residents of Missouri who fought in that battle. Representative Towson, Shelby county, introduced the bill and he was appointed a member of the committee to investigate the claims of the confederates and Major W. D. Rodgers, St. Louis, to investigate the Union soldiers' claims, and they, with Adjutant General O'Meara, have passed upon the claims of the applicants and find that 283 are entitled to receive their transportation from the legislative appropriation.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning Ralph E. McMillen climbed into the seat of his biplane, which had been wheeled to the east end of the Normal athletic field, the assistant gave the propeller a turn, and with a roar from its eight cylinder engine the machine started on its flight. Twelve minutes later the machine lay broken at the west end of the Normal grounds and McMillen, his ankle sprained and with a gash cut across his back, was put into an automobile and taken to the Linville hotel, where his assistants are caring for him. His injuries are not serious, but he is too stiff and sore to make another flight, even if the machine could be fixed by this afternoon, which will be impossible.

At the hotel McMillen explained the accident in this way. He said that he lost control of the machine in trying to alight. He had intended to bring the biplane to the ground at the east end of the Normal athletic field. He did not strike the earth, however, until he had reached the west end of the field. The aeroplane ran on through the high hay in the field just west of the running track. One end of the lower plane caught in the grass and threw the machine around. McMillen was thrown out of his seat and run over by the machine. He also said that he had tried to come down earlier than he did, but could not do so and was forced to circle.

The damage to the biplane consists of two sections of the lower plane being smashed, some parts of the running gear being badly bent and a punctured tire. Were it not for the damage to the running gear the machine could possibly be fixed today, as an extra section for the plane is carried ready to meet just such an accident. It is a comparatively easy matter to fix broken planes, according to the men who set up the machine. Beside the extra section of plane, the only other duplicate part carried is a propeller.

The men do not know whether they will try to fix the aeroplane here before they dismantle it or not. McMillen received a telegram just before his flight cancelling the engagement at Joplin Saturday and Sunday. They are now waiting for orders from the company.

A large crowd gathered at the Normal athletic field this morning to see McMillen make his flight. The grand stand was packed and the crowd, on foot, in autos and buggies, stretched

The convention adjourned at noon today.

The Nodaway county Sunday school convention held good sessions Tuesday afternoon and evening at the First M. E. church.

The object of the convention is an inter-denominational co-operative movement for better Sunday school work.

The out-of-town speakers here are as good as could be heard at a state convention, while Dr. H. E. Tralle of Mexico, teacher of religious pedagogy in Hardin college, is a Sunday school man of national reputation

Mrs. G. P. Beattie of the Westport Presbyterian Sunday school gave a very interesting talk Tuesday night on "The Sunday School Superintendent in Action." The suggestion she made as to the methods of carrying on the work of a Sunday school would, if carried out, revolutionize the present way, and make it so attractive that there would never be a falling off in attendance through lack of interest. Mrs. Beattie's talk was profitable to everyone, whether teacher, officer or not in the Sunday school work.

Dr. Tralle followed her with a splendid discussion on "The Need of the Trained Teacher." He would prefer the trained teacher in the Sunday school instead of the trained day school teacher, if he had to do without one, as the lessons to be learned from the Bible are of the most vital importance. He is presenting a system of grade work in the Sunday school that fits those who pursue it as well as a Normal course fits the day teacher for her work, while there is instilled in the heart of the pupil a desire for Bible study as great as the study in day school work.

He is a strong advocate for men teachers for boys in the Sunday school, and says it is a sad commentary on the membership of a church if the men in it are of so little account that enough teachers among them cannot be secured to teach the boys that would naturally come to that church. He says that hundreds of good, splendid Sunday school teachers are going to waste and influence lost from among the business and professional men of a community, who would make magnificent teachers if they were only trained for the work. There is a big misunderstanding all around between boys and men that could be completely cleared up in the Sunday school room if the men would get down to business and do their part.

S. L. Williams of Liberty, field secretary, spoke of the need of Sunday school work in the state and made plain the fact that to put your energy and money into it is the best investment a man can make.

Mr. Ashe of Tarkio made a brief but telling speech in favor of trained Sunday school workers, and at the beginning said he was grateful to know that this section of Missouri had a senator so strong in Sunday school work that he could lead a devotional service for the opening of a convention session such as was enjoyed Tuesday evening. Senator Anderson Craig was the leader of the meeting.

THE NURSERY INSPECTION LAW.

All Agents and Dealers Should Read the Inspection Law Passed by the Last Legislature.

The attention of nurserymen, agents and dealers in fruit trees and general nursery stock is called to the inspection law which was passed by the legislature last winter. This new law becomes effective this summer and all interested in the growing, selling, shipping, importing and planting of fruit trees, vines, shrubs and other nursery stock should address the chief inspector of nurseries and orchards, Columbia, Missouri, and receive a copy of the law and instructions as to how he may comply with its provisions.

The law requires that all growers of nursery stock in Missouri apply to the chief inspector before the first of July for an inspection of their stock. This applies to all growers, large or small and whether the stock is shipped, sold locally or used for home orchard or for public parks. This inspection will be made during the months of July, August and September and growers will prevent unnecessary delay and extra expense to themselves, if they notify the chief inspector at once.

All dealers in nursery stock must apply for a dealer's certificate in case they grow no stock but buy and sell. Also all agents for Missouri nurseries or for nurseries in other states, who simply take orders, must apply for an agent's certificate and file necessary papers.

If all nurserymen, agents and dealers who see this notice as well as others who may know nurserymen, agents and dealers who may not see it, will kindly notify the chief inspector, it will be of great help to him in carrying out the important work.

PROHIBITION UP AGAIN!

Temperance Advocates May Retaliate for Holding Up of County Unit Law.

The Rev. Sam Small is responsible for the statement that the temperance people of Missouri will submit constitutional prohibition at the next general election in 1914 in retaliation for the action of the liquor interests in causing the county unit law to be suspended until after the people approve of it. The statement referred to was made in Jefferson City. The Rev. Mr. Small said the petitions for the submission of constitutional prohibition would be signed by not less than one hundred thousand voters.

It is estimated that it cost the liquor interest more than a half million dollars to put up their last fight against constitutional prohibition and that it will cost them still more to fight it at the November, 1914, election.

"The Convict's Vindication."

The play under the above title, as presented by the choir of St. Mary's Catholic church Tuesday night in the church hall was exceedingly well presented.

Reliability - Beauty - Comfort

Do You Want Them in Printer's Ink or in Your Car?

It's an easy matter to prepare and print advertisements and catalogs glowing with praise.

Judge the car you buy by its record — not by printer's ink. Look into its parts, not its advertisements.

When you've paid out your money, what do the advertisements with their glowing terms mean to you in the way of reliability — beauty — durability — economy — comfort?

When you pay over your money be sure of what you are getting.

There are good cars, lots of them, made as good as their makers know how, and plenty of bad cars, too, cars made merely to sell. They look fine while new, they even run passably well while new, but there's no heart in them. Their makers did not put it there. They quit under a strain—give out—and the repair bills begin.

Be sure you are getting a car that has made good. Look into the record and get the car that has come through the hardest tests unpenalized. Such a car will long be your most prized possession.

MARTINE AND MORTON CLASH

Offer to Buy Drinks for Senator Nearly Causes Fist Fight

PRESS TOWARD EACH OTHER.

Mine Owner at Recess Suggests "Having a Few," and New Jersey Senator Calls Other "Blackguard of Worst Character"—Kenyon in Charge.

Charleston, W. Va., June 18.—At a stormy session of the senate mine strike committee, at which a near fist fight between Senator Martine of New Jersey and Quinn Morton, manager of the Paint Creek Operators' association, was narrowly averted, the coal operators of Paint and Cabin creek presented their side of the controversy. Mr. Morton, as the principal witness for the operators, presented their account of the negotiations which preceded the strike and detailed his activities during the troubles. His discussion of his participation in the attack on the strikers' camp at Holly Grove from an armored train precipitated the clash with Senator Martine.

Mr. Morton had denounced the attitude of Senator Martine in questioning him as "outrageous," and the trouble broke out again when the senator wanted to know whether Mr. Morton had expressed satisfaction at the effect of the firing on Holly Grove, but before he had developed his line of questioning Senator Swanson, scenting trouble, adjourned the committee. Mr. Morton leaned back in the witness seat as Senator Martine, his hat and heavy walking stick in his hand, stood behind the press table still asking questions.

Drinks Suggested.

"Well," remarked Mr. Morton, "we'll all go down and take a few drinks and then we'll feel better."

The crowd had already begun to crowd toward the door of the room when it was arrested by a shout of Senator Martine.

"What was that you said, sir?" he demanded, leaning toward Morton.

"I said we'll all go down and have a few drinks and we'll feel better," repeated the mine operator.

Pushing his way through the little throng about the stenographer's table, Senator Martine shouted:

"You are a blackguard of the worst character to address such a remark to me."

Out of the confusion that followed came the voice of Morton:

"Did you not take three drinks with me in thirty minutes?"

With a bound, Senator Martine covered the short distance that separated the two men.

"You have forfeited all right to consideration as a decent white man," he shouted.

Senator Swanson hurried around the committee table and seized Senator Martine. Aided by Sergeant-at-Arms Huggins, he hurried him from the room, Mr. Morton and Mr. Vinson protesting in vigorous language against the proceedings.

The committee arranged to place the entire hearing in charge of Senator Kenyon, who quieted things down and the remainder of the session went off quietly.

TO CREATE PUBLIC OPINION

Trail of Lobby Leads Into Private Files of Beet Industry.

Washington, June 18.—The trail of "the lobby" the senate has been following more than two weeks, led into the private files of the men in charge of the Washington offices of the United States beet sugar industry, the leading instrument of the campaign against free sugar, and by originals of letters and telegrams and what purported to be copies of others, developed testimony of what appeared to be an attempt at a far-reaching campaign to create public sentiment against free sugar through the columns of individual newspapers and the facilities of press associations.

PURE FOOD LAW EXTENDED

Act Made to Apply to Meats and Their Products.

Washington, June 18.—Probably the most radical and far-reaching extension of the food and drugs act since its enactment was made when Secretaries Houston, McAdoo and Redfield, charged with enforcing the statute, ruled that meat and meat products in interstate or foreign commerce, which hitherto have been exempted from the provisions of the pure food law, may be seized if misbranded or adulterated. Beginning at once manufacturers of meat foods will be required to comply strictly with the food and drugs act.

Bulgarian Troops Dying of Cholera.

Saloniki, June 18.—Cholera is making alarming progress among the Bulgarian troops stationed at various points in Macedonia. Hundreds of cases are reported at military hospitals and many of them result fatally. The civil population of the districts is also much affected.

Child Killed by Gasoline.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 18.—Being given a drink of gasoline by mistake proved fatal to the infant son of Bart Flaharty here. The gasoline was left in a cup, and, mistaken for water, was given to the infant, who died two hours later.

SENATOR MARTINE,

New Jersey Solon Who Called West Virginia Mine Operator a Blackguard.

VAGUE CHARGE MADE BY JUDGE LOVETT

Union Pacific Chairman Approached by Certain Men.

New York, June 18.—Judge Robert Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific company, issued a long statement in New York, saying, in effect, that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific authorities have been approached by various persons unnamed, professing to have influence, which they would bring to bear in the matter of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution proceedings, provided the railroad employed certain lawyers.

He added that these offers were invariably rejected, as the result of which, presumably, many rumors were circulated reflecting on the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific management and motives.

"Every time that we have had any plan connected with Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution," said Judge Lovett, "I think that without a single exception we have calls from parties purporting to be able to exert great influence with congress and in other places. All sorts of emissaries have come to me with the story that they could accomplish all sorts of things for us if we would employ certain lawyers.

"I have refused to see any of these parties and I don't believe a single word they have said about what they can accomplish for us. Following these communications there was generally some sort of a rumor appearing in the press which I could not help but connect with these parties."

TO SELL ORIENT ROAD

Application Is Filed for Final Order In Receivership Case.

Kansas City, June 18.—Application for a final decree in the receivership of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway to make possible the sale of the railway was filed before Judge Pollock of the federal court in Kansas City, Kan., by attorneys for the United States and Mexican Trust company and the bondholders of the road.

About $24,000,000 of bonds are outstanding against the road. It was expected the road will be sold to the highest bidder. A new company to buy the Orient property has been in the process of organization for several weeks. Judge Pollock appointed receivers for the Orient March 7, last year.

At the time the Orient went into receivers' hands its officials attributed a large share of their difficulties to money conditions, especially in the matter of being unable to get loans. For months thereafter an effort was made to rehabilitate the affairs of the railway. Last December Edward Dickinson was deposed as general manager of the road and M. J. Knelly, once a division superintendent of the Rock Island, was put in his place. This change was attributed to reported discord among the many receivers.

HITCHCOCK HAS A NEW PLAN

Nebraska Senator Submits Substitute for Tobacco Trust Idea.

Washington, June 18.—A graduate income tax on corporations having a capital stock of more than $100,000,000 and controlling more than one-fourth of the production of their respective lines, was proposed to the finance committee by Senator Hitchcock from the floor of the senate. He stated that because the committee had rejected his proposal to levy a special tax upon the "tobacco trust" he offered the new amendment as a substitute.

Kaiser Recognizes Huerta Government

THE CONCRETE SILO.

A Silo to Be Successful Must Be Air Tight and Strong—They Are Not Expensive.

P. M. Brandt of the Missouri agricultural experiment station writes as follows on the concrete silo:

Silos are now being built in almost every farming community in Missouri. The first and most important question a farmer asks when he decides to build a silo is "what kind shall I build?" Inquiries come by every mail to the dairy department of the University at Columbia about this or that kind of silo. Many farmers have been told that concrete silos are not successful and for that reason they hesitate to build them.

A silo to be successful must be air tight and strong enough to withstand the outward pressure of the silage. A silo that meets the above requirements will be successful regardless of the material with which it is constructed. A concrete silo when properly built will keep silage as good as any other kind and will last practically forever.

Concrete silos are not as expensive in many localities in Missouri as the silos commonly sold. Where the building material is at hand in creek beds or in gravel pits they are being built at a very low cost. The average cost per ton capacity of thirteen concrete silos built in south Missouri where the gravel was taken from the creek beds was $1.60. This means that if each silo had a capacity of 100 tons the average cost would have been $160. In one county in north Missouri where sand from a creek bed was mixed with rock broken by hand on the farm a 100 ton silo was built complete for $250. In Macon county the sand and crushed rock for a concrete silo were shipped from Hannibal and after hauling the material four miles in the country a 100 ton silo was built at a total cost of $350. The above facts are taken from actual figures furnished by the farmers building the silos. They show that the concrete silo is probably on the average no more expensive than any other kind and it is a well known fact that they give satisfaction and are permanent.

The dairy department of the Missouri college of agriculture Columbia, Missouri, furnishes free plans for the forms to be used in building concrete silos and also sends a man to start the erection of a concrete silo after the forms are built and the material is on the ground. When this is done the man building the silo is required to pay the traveling expenses of the expert. Many farmers who want to build concrete silos are asking for the plans of the forms and the services of this expert.

Celebrated Forty-Third Birthday.

Last Sunday a large crowd of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike English and surprised Mrs. English on her forty-third birthday. She was very much surprised on returning from church and finding the house filled with people. Everybody took well filled baskets and had a very sumptuous birthday dinner prepared on the table when they returned from church. The day was very enjoyably spent in games and amusements. Everyone there enjoyed themselves and had a fine time. Dinner was served to about sixty people, and it was certainly delicious. Those present were Mrs. Cameron and family, Mrs. Ruth McQuinn and sons, Mrs. Cunningham and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kern and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. Zerfas and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. Derks and family, Mr. and Mrs. .F Thometz and sons, Mr. and Mrs. A. Juhl and son, Mr. and Mrs. D. McQuinn and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. Cunningham and daughter, Mr. A. Teson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wiederholt. In the evening the people left wishing Mrs. English many more happy birthdays.

ONLY ONE FLIGHT

around the quarter-mile track. It was with a great deal of trouble that the people were kept out of the field and away from the machine.

The final adjustments of the machine were made shortly after 10 o'clock. The radiator of the engine was filled with water, and, after a short test of the engine the biplane was wheeled from the place where it had been set up to the starting place at the east end of the field. At this time McMillen said:

"It is getting worse every minute up there in the air. I ought to have been up a half an hour ago. Just look how the smoke comes out of that stack down there," pointing to the stack of the Electric Light company.

Then he climbed into his seat, the engine was started, and, while it was gaining speed, the biplane was held by seven or eight men. At a signal from the aviator they let go, and the aeroplane started rapidly toward the west. It left the ground just before the running track at the west en dof the field was reached. Rising higher and higher, it circled southward then turned east and flew over the business section of the city. From there, McMillen pointed his machine northward, and when he had reached the north end of town he turned back toward his starting place. He made one or two circles and then apparently started to come down. He soon swerved up again, however, and flew in another circle. This was when he failed in his first attempt to land, as he afterward said. When he did come down, he flew rapidly over the athletic field. The biplane was about fifty feet in the air as it entered the field from the east. Coming down rapidly, it reached the ground at the west end of the field and plowed its way through the tall grass and came to a stop with the accident at the foot of the hill.

NOT 2 CENTS YET AWHILE.

The Reduction in Passenger Rate Not Until Next Fall.

Two-cent railway fares in Missouri may not become effective until October next, said Frank Hagerman, counsel for the roads, today.

"Thirty days must elapse between the time the opinion is given and time of issuing the mandate to the lower court," Hagerman said. "It is not possible to get the lower rate earlier than thirty days from yesterday. Then there is a possibility of a motion for a rehearing in behalf of the railways. Such a motion would automatically suspend the case and put the hearing over to the next term of court, which begins in October."

The maximum freight rate law upheld by the United States supreme court yesterday, at a conservative estimate, will save Missouri shippers between $500,000 and $1,000,000 annually.

The new rates that will go into effect as soon as the mandate of the court arrives in Jefferson City apply only to car load lot shipments. Packages and parcels in less than car loads shipped by freight are not affected at all. The car load lot shipments, however, which are included in the law are food stuffs and building materials and live stock and things needed on the farm, such as agricultural implements. For example, the law lowers the rate on car load shipments of fruit from the Ozark peach and strawberry belt to Kansas City. It lowers slightly the live stock and the grain rate, thus making Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis better markets for farm products when shipped in car load lots.

On the other hand, the law will lower the rate on car load shipments of furniture and implements and salt and flour. The law, of course, applies only to shipments made entirely within the state. Otherwise it becomes interstate commerce and is affected by the rates fixed by that commission.

SAYS POULTRY CAN INCREASE.

State Agricultural Secretary Advises Farmers to Improve Methods.

T. C. Wilson, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in a bulletin, says that while Missouri leads in the production and value of poultry products, the producer will receive better returns from his hennery if he will use the best methods of fattening, killing and marketing.

Missouri generally is credited with being the first poultry state in the Union. According to the last census, the total number of fowls on Missouri farms was 20,899,000. The production of eggs actually reported for the year 1909 was 104,185,000 dozens.

According to the twelfth census reports, the production of eggs in 1899 was 85,203,000 dozens, the value being $8,315,000.

The total production of poultry in 1909 was, according to the census figures, 31,913,000 fowls, and they brought to the farmers $14,573,000.

S. P. Smith, G. W. Akers and L. J. Brady of St. Joseph, representing the Smith-Dysart Commission company, were in Maryville Tuesday with a view to establishing a branch office in this city. The Smith-Dysart company, of which Mr. Smith is the head and Mr. Akers a member, handles a large amount of produce of all kinds. A branch business is already established in Albany, and it is very likely that one will be established here. If so, it will be done at once, in order to handle the apple crop.

Secretary Hoffman of the Commercial club was showing the gentlemen over town, and they seemed well pleased with the prospects.

Pirates Win Another.

Captain "Shylock" Wilson lead his buccaneers to victory Monday afternoon in an interesting battle in the Normal base ball league with the Cubs. Until the last inning the score was 10 to 0, but the Cubs determined there was to be no shutout and made six runs. Adams pitched a fair game for the Cubs but the Pirates bunched their hits and ran up a pretty good score on the "old-timer."

Batteries—Pirates, Vandersloot and Wilson; Cubs, Adams and Cooper.

Score, Pirates 10, Cubs 6.
